Mobile Technologies and the Writing Classroom: Resources for Teachers
Edited by Claire Lutkewitte

In this collection, Claire Lutkewitte and her contributors explore both writing for and about mobile technologies and writing with mobile technologies. Coming at a time when instructors are pressured to be professionally innovative but are rarely provided ideal circumstances in which to do so, this book offers (1) a starting point for instructors who haven’t yet used mobile technologies in the classroom, (2) fresh ideas to those who have and proof that they are not alone, and (3) a call of reassurance that we can do more with less.

Making Hybrids Work: An Institutional Framework for Blending Online and Face-to-Face Instruction in Higher Education
By Joanna N. Paull and Jason Allen Snart

This book provides a resource for institutions of higher education to grow and sustain quality hybrid curricula, outlining an institutional framework by focusing on defining and advertising hybrids; developing, supporting, and assessing hybrid programs; and training faculty. To examine the reality rather than the hype of a hybrid curriculum, authors Joanna N. Paull and Jason Allen Snart look at several existing hybrid courses in a variety of disciplines, as well as explore the possibilities and limitations of teaching with technology.

Our past, our story, has been a long one, and now time demands we reflect on and rewrite our present and future. No one can better tell the story of our passion, dedication, and commitment to our profession and to our students than we ourselves. It is we who prepare students to live, think, and make meaning long after the last school door is closed. It is we on whom our students depend to prepare them with lifelong literacy. NCTE's 2017 Convention, The First Chapter, and our series of Town Halls allow us and our students to begin an ongoing conversation about who we are, where we are going, why, and how we will continue on our mission together.
