Making Curriculum Pop

Developing Literacies in All Content Areas
Pam Goble and Ryan R. Goble

Does your curriculum sit quietly on its hands?
Or does it pop like a cool tie, a great tune, or fireworks on a summer night? This extraordinary book will help it do the latter . . . and will help you approach your teaching with an enthusiastic and collaborative spirit like never before.

Inside you’ll discover a flexible, research-based, step-by-step approach to designing vibrant curriculum in all content areas. This approach integrates literacies across media, including both print and nonprint texts, such as:

- books, websites, and blogs
- film, TV, and video games
- music and podcasts
- visual art and fashion
- architecture and landscape

Students form cooperative learning groups to evaluate texts from various perspectives: How would a Web master map the events in the movie Rescue Dawn? How would an economist explain the variables affecting family and community life in Kit Kittredge? What observations would a cartographer make about the design of a Frank Lloyd Wright school?
Finally, they show and share their thinking using unique graphic organizers aligned to the Common Core and other standards. Additionally, you’ll find suggestions for modifying and extending each learning experience to satisfy the unique needs of your classroom.

Digital content includes over fifty unique graphic organizers, student samples, correlations to Common Core State Standards, and more.
