Teaching Australian and New Zealand Literature

Edited by NICHOLAS BIRNS, NICOLE MOORE, and SARAH SHIEFF

“This volume provides resources and contexts for teaching Australian and New Zealand literatures for those increasingly worlded literature classrooms outside Australia and New Zealand.”
—Philip Mead
University of Western Australia

The writing of Australia and New Zealand, though influenced by European literary movements, has developed on its own. This volume introduces themes such as the tension between the local and the global; the experience of the frontier; and the stories and perspectives of convicts, migrants, and refugees.

2017 ANNUAL CONVENTION
St. Louis, MO | NOVEMBER 16-19

“TEACHING OUR STUDENTS TODAY, TOMORROW, FOREVER: RECAPTURING OUR VOICES, OUR AGENCY, OUR MISSION”

2016 was amazing . . . now join us for 2017!

Our past, our story, has been a long one, and now time demands we reflect on and rewrite our present and future. No one can better tell the story of our passion, dedication, and commitment to our profession and to our students than we ourselves. It is we who prepare students to live, think, and make meaning long after the last school door is closed. It is we upon whom our students depend to prepare them with lifelong literacy. NCTE’s 2017 Convention, The First Chapter, and our series of Town Halls allow us and our students to begin an ongoing conversation about who we are, where we are going, why, and how we will continue on our mission together. Come join us.
